

Dear Professor Fredericq:

While thanking you again for your last shipment, may I make another request? In the light of your remarks, and publication, colicin E1 may well be the model ~~/s~~ I should concentrate on. I am beginning to work this up and get the necessary background for my anticipated experiment.

Looking ahead, I perceive that it might be technically useful to have another reagent for resistance vs. immunity to this colicin. I ask the favor therefore of a sample of BF-23 phage, or any other one that you would recommend as sharing the same receptor as colicin E1.

Yours truly,

Joshua Lederberg
